

What makes a good historian at Saint Marie's?

A good historian:

Has a curiosity to know more about the past.	Asks perceptive, historically valid questions.	Thinks critically, weighing evidence and sifting arguments to develop their own perspective and judgement.
Is a good communicator, who can work alongside other to tackle some of history's big questions.		Have a strong understanding of chronology.
Makes connections across historical periods and explain how the past frames the present.	Have a strong understanding of methods of historical enquiry.	