

What makes a good user of technology at Saint Marie's?

A good user of technology:

Has the ability to collaborate, communicate and express themselves by choosing the right media and application from a range of information, communication technology.	Shows the confidence and creativity to tinker with technology and explore ideas.	Is curious to ask questions and the perseverance to want to know more.
Is SMART online.		The ability to make connections and links between learning maths, science and design technology. They can use this knowledge and transfer it to new situations and technologies.
Thinks systematically to break instructions and processes down into small steps.	Shows resilience when overcoming errors, bugs and mistakes and sees this as just as important and exciting as steps to new learning and discovery.	